SHERIFF'S WIFE
KNOCKS OUT NEGRO

Mrs. Godfrey Frustrated Attempt to Escape from Bennington Jail

POUNDED HIM ON HEAD WITH PADLOCK

Calvin Williams of Manchester, Held for a Serious Offense, Attacked Mr. Godfrey and Latter's Wife Came to His Assistance.

BENNINGTON, Nov. 2.—An attempted break at the Bennington county jail yesterday was frustrated by the courage of the jailer's wife, Mrs. Frederick Godfrey, who, when her husband was assaulted by a burly Negro, rushed to her husband's assistance and knocked out the prisoner with repeated blows on the head with a heavy padlock.

The sheriff's assistant is Calvin Williams who is being held for the grand jury on the charge of rape. He was brought to the jail early in the month from Manchester where the alleged offense was committed.

Between 11 and 12 o'clock Sheriff Godfrey opened the steel gated door leading from the ante room into the jail corridor. As the sheriff swung back the door he was assaulted by the Negro, who threw his arms about the officer and attempted to throw the keeper to the floor. Although over 70 years of age, the sheriff grappled with his assailant in the meantime sending out a loud call for help.

Mrs. Godfrey at the time was in the kitchen at the further end of the jailer's apartments. When she arrived on the scene the Negro had failed to break away from the sheriff and the two were wrestling about the ante room. Seizing one of the heavy padlocks, weighing between two and three pounds, with which the jail corridor is closed, she threw her left arm about the Negro and began pounding the black man's head with the big lump of metal. Once during the struggle she dropped the padlock to the floor. The Negro struggled to reach the weapon, but the plucky woman kicked it away from his grasp and regained possession. Then she again began raining blows with renewed force upon the kinky-haired criminal.

nium. The Negro fought viciously and the woman added more power to her right arm. Realizing that the struggle could not continue indefinitely, Mrs. Godfrey struck the Negro with all her force and he dropped like a log to the corridor floor. Some of the blows which the Negro received cut his scalp and when the struggle was over Mrs. Godfrey's waist was saturated with so much blood that it was at first believed she had been injured. She did not receive a scratch, however, and after a change of clothing appeared to be none the worse for the encounter.

The big padlock has been when entering the corridor and cells of the jail. When ever she has unlocked the door she has carried the lock with her, but this is the first time she has had occasion to use it. When the sheriff has occasion to enter the jail he has always removed the lock and placed it on a radiator pipe near the door. She therefore knew just where to find it when she heard the sheriff's call for help.

Williams had been acting in a surly manner for several days. Whenever the corridor door has been opened he has approached and has kept up a continued muttering concerning his confinement. He is a large man, probably weighing more than 180 pounds and about 30 years of age. Previous to being arrested he had been employed on one of the lumber jobs at Manchester.

ARMED INTRUDER TERRIFIES TEACHER

Miss Ellen Mullen Escaped and Gave Alarm—Man Caught Later by the Police.

PALMER, Mass., Nov. 2.—While the children were gathering for school at the West-Brimfield schoolhouse yesterday morning a man armed with a revolver entered the building and terrified the teacher, Miss Ellen Mullen. She saw him coming into the building and his actions indicated an intention to injure her. She screamed for help and ran down into the cellar, from which she escaped through a window.

Miss Mullen ran to a neighboring house, which she reached in a state of frenzy. The Palmer police were telephoned for and Chief Crimmins, accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Bills and J. F. Luman, responded at once. The police were informed that there were three men in the party at the schoolhouse, although but one of them entered the building. This man was found not far away and taken into custody. He was armed with a revolver of 38 caliber and gave the name of John Smith of Philadelphia.

Smith declined to talk much. He admitted having been at the schoolhouse with two companions. He said the three had been on the road for some time. He was brought to Palmer and on the way a car was kept for the other two men. They were seen in the Boston & Albany freight yard, but escaped before they could be located by the officers. It is believed they boarded a train for Springfield soon after and the police in that city were asked to watch for them.

COAL PRICE NOT JUSTIFIED.

Truesdale Denies Shortage—Slight Rise in Cost.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Advance prices for coal asked by dealers in New York and vicinity are not justified by the actual conditions of the coal market, according to William Truesdale, president of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railway, who yesterday termed the present situation as "panic." Mr. Truesdale denied reports alleging shortage of coal for the New York market and further asserted that anthracite has not been advanced by producers during the past year beyond the average increase of 25 cents a ton, placed, he said, to cover increased cost of production, growing out of higher wages, the labor compensation act, etc.

With the unprecedented increase in the price of domestic coal to $12.50 a ton here, retail merchants notified the public that only conservation of the supply and limitation of deliveries to one ton a customer would avert a famine.

Experts denied speculators were cornering the market. Prices will continue to soar, they predicted, while the existing industrial conditions prevail. Only 20 per cent of the coal produced is affected by the increase, they contend as the other 80 per cent has already been sold under yearly contracts.

Records show increases of 100 to 200 per cent in the wholesale prices since August. Whereas domestic coal sold at $5.35 to $5.65 a gross ton, f. o. b. tidewater, in August, the current prices are from $8 to $8.20. These prices do not include lighterage and delivery charges.

Interstate Commerce Commissioner McChord has gone to Louisville, Ky., where Nov. 3 and 4 he will hold informal conferences with representatives of the eastern, southern and a few of the western railroads, state railroad commissions and shippers concerning the general coal shortage which is tying up traffic and affecting the prices of coal and other necessities.

VERMONTERS MADE A GOOD SHOWING

Students from the University in Burlington Won Third Prize in Judging Contest.

At the recent National dairy show held in Springfield, Mass., for the first time a butter judging contest was held. Nine teams were entered, including teams representing Cornell, Ohio state university, Nebraska university, South Dakota Agricultural college, Massachusetts Agricultural college, Connecticut Agricultural college, University of Vermont and Pennsylvania State college. Eighteen tubs of butter were furnished for the judging contest. The University of Vermont secured third prize, winning $50 in gold. The first prize was won by Pennsylvania State college and the second by South Dakota.

The Vermont team consisted of G. E. Stevens of Pittsford Mills, H. H. Metcalf of Williston, D. S. Jones of Randolph, and A. C. Lewis of Poultney (alternates).

Vermont also entered a team in the stock judging contest. Eighteen teams were entered and although Vermont won no prize, the experience was a valuable one. This was the first time that the University of Vermont has entered this competition. The Vermont team consisted of E. M. Root of North Craftsbury, I. N. Bartlett of Middle Grandville, N. Y., F. R. Churchhill of South Londonderry, and F. J. Carpenter of Morrisville (alternates). It is hoped that the University will be able to continue to send teams to participate in these contests.

The competition on the part of the university was made possible by the generosity of several organizations and individuals. The Agricultural club of the university paid part of the expenses and the sum of $44 was contributed by F. A. Kennedy of Windsor, a Jersey breeder, J. G. Howland of Quebec Falls farm, Quebec, a Jersey breeder, B. C. Buxton of Middleton Springs, a Holstein breeder, G. T. Chaffee of Rutland, a Jersey breeder, A. A. Dunklee of South Vernon, a Jersey breeder, and Willey Brothers of Cambridge, Jersey and Holstein breeders. The U. V. M. Short Course association also assisted in raising the fund.

IT COMES NEAR HOME.

Village of Roxbury Furnishes a Victim in the Great European War.

NORTHFIELD, VT., Nov. 2.—The little village of Roxbury has furnished a victim for sacrifice in the great European war, Henry Putnam, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Putnam.

A cablegram from the London war office was received by his parents, Oct. 24, announcing the death of Private Henry Putnam of the Sixth Gloucestershire battalion. It was followed by communication from the record office of the territorial forces giving further details. He died in the field ambulance in France on Sept. 28 from wounds received in battle. Accompanying this was a letter of sympathy as follows:

To Mr. and Mrs. C. Putnam
Roxbury, Vermont, U. S. A.
The King commands me to assure you of the true sympathy of His Majesty and the Queen in your sorrow.

(Signed) D. Lloyd George.
A pathetic coincidence was the arrival of a letter to the afflicted parents, written by their son a few days before his death. It assured them of his excellent health and contained many comments and enquiries, showing that he was in a peaceful environment and the relatives and friends of his Vermont home were in his thoughts, sustaining hope and relieving the stress and horror of war.

KILLED BY KOREAN BANDITS.

Attack Made on American Mining Engineers.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Fin Welhaven, who is believed to have been one of the American mining engineers have been wounded in an encounter with armed bandits, who ambushed the party in northern Korea, with the object of robbery, says a despatch from Seoul dated October 11. The Americans and others connected with the Oriental Consolidated gold mine were returning to the mine on October 6 carrying $75,000 in cash for operating expenses, when they were attacked from the brush by nine highwaymen whose nationality is not known. A policeman and the Chinese driver of the backboard in which the Americans were riding were shot dead and Mr. Welhaven was so badly wounded that he died the following day. Two other Americans named Williams and Barstow were shot, though not dangerously wounded. The bandits were driven off and the cash was saved. Mr. Welhaven was a brother of Alf Welhaven, manager of the Oriental mine, which is about 60 miles from the nearest railroad.

SPRINGFIELD.

Covey-Sherwin Wedding.

A company of invited guests assembled at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pierce in Ludlow, Oct. 16 in which were united in marriage Ransom L. Covey of Springfield (Vt.) and Kate Sherwin of Ludlow. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. H. Stetson, pastor of the Baptist church. The bride wore a pretty travelling dress of brown broadcloth and a close fitting hat to match. They received many beautiful gifts of silver, cut glass, china, and linen. They left amid a shower of rice and confetti for a 10-days' trip, stopping in New York, Providence, Worcester and Boston. On their return they will make their home at 61 Olive street, Springfield.
